I. Invitation to Worship.

"Give unto the Lord the glory due unto His name: bring an offering and come before Him: worship the Lord in th e beauty of holiness.

"O magnify the Lord with me, and let us exalt His name together."

II. Invocation.

Almighty and eternal God, we would bring unto Thy holy name the glory that is due Thee. To this end we have gathered here to render our morning sacrifice. Make our hearts as one before Thy throne of grace that our worship may be in the unity of Thy Spirit. Cleanse us from all evil that we may come before Thee in the beauty of Thy holiness. Thru Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom be glory forever, Amen.

III. Thanksgiving, Confession, Supplication.

Thou God of Life, we praise Thee for our right to live, and for the consciousness that our life is hid in Thee. We are grateful for the power of heart and mind and soul to hold personal fellowship with the Infinite Creator of all things. We thank Thee that thou did'st give to us a comprehensive understanding of Thyself in the Son of Man, Jesus Christ, and that in His likeness we can attain unto the life made perfect thru obedience to Thy will.

But we must confess with shame, Heavenly Father, that we have not always appreciated Thy gift of Life to us, nor have we desired for ourselves the more abundant life in Christ. Thy Spirit we have shunned and Thy Truth we have not sought. Intimes of prosperity we have forgotten Thee, whereas, when afflicted,,we are wont to complain against Thee. Our own desires have kept us from doing Thy will. Thus by choice we have entombed Thy life of Love and Sacrifice and Service within the hardened and narrow limits of our own selfishness, pride, and disobedience. Thou Father of tender mercies and lovingkindness, for Thy name's sake, pardon our iniquity for it is great. Purge us, and we shall be clean; wash us, and we shall be whiter than snow. Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of Thy name.

Transform each of our hearts into a dwellingplace for the Spirit of Christ, and make the mind of the Master to become ours. As Jesus loved us and went about doing good grant that we may love one another and ever strive for the best interests of all, that we, too, may obtain the life of oneness with Thee and Humanity.

"Now unto Him who is able to keep us from falling, and to present us faultless before the throne of His glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Savior, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen."

IV. Intercession.

Almighty God, who hast commanded us to make intercession for all men, we come before Thee in their behalf.

Be Thou the life of every nation and may Thy laws be made the basic principles of all government. May the rulers of the earth direct their affairs as Thy faithful representatives. May all in authority exercise their powers in accordance with Thy justice and mercy. Help us to overcome every corruption in influence in national, municipal, social, and commercial life that our country may be blessed with sound health and lasting prosperity.

Be Thou the life of our homes. Bless our doctors and nurses whose business it is to tend to our physical well-being. May our parents be willing to take their instructions in matters of sanitation and proper living. Enable them to discover a remedy for every sickness and hasten the time when all disease shall be stopt. Bless our professors and school-teachers whose devotion it is to impart knowledge unto us and our children that we may become in still greater measure an intelligent people. Help them to be true to their ideal of education which demands that the whole of life be developed to its greatest efficiency and usefulness. Bless our priests and pastors, our missionaries and sunday-school teachers, and all who are active in the service of Jesus Christ. Crown their efforts with success and may they see our homes established in the atmosphere of moral and spiritual right-living.

Thou God of Truth and Love, cause us to realize that the whole of humanity is our home and that Thou art the Father thereof. And unto Him who made possible our oneness with Thee and with one another, even Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory forever. Amen.
